

GIRL'S IDENTITY IN FARRAR SUIT NOW VERY MUCH DOUBTED

MYSTERY IN MISSING PHOTOS

Lorna Ambler May Not Be One Accused With Tellegen

New York, June 9.—Two additional and unusual features attract attention in Geraldine Farrar's tangled divorce suit against Lou Tellegen.

Both center on the charges against Tellegen and Miss Lorna Ambler. It is on the case as far as it affects Miss Ambler that Miss Farrar and her attorneys principally rely for their success in ultimately winning a decree.

Both raise the question as to whether the case against Miss Ambler and Tellegen is any stronger than that which followed Miss Stella Larmore and which Miss Farrar dropped rather than face a contest on the merits of fact.

Proof that Miss Farrar and Tellegen lived together as husband and wife after the so-called Kathleen Clifford incident at the Hotel St. Francis, San Francisco, which incident also was mentioned by the fact that it occurred five years ago and was previously known to the court from Miss Farrar's case. The Ambler charges are therefore the ones remaining in dispute on the Farrar side.

TWO QUESTIONS RAISED.
The two questions raised are:—Why were the police and the representatives from the press barred from any view of the photographs introduced on the divorce proceedings for the purpose of identifying Miss Ambler? Is it because this photograph is too vague and inconclusive for witnesses to testify and affirmatively identify Miss Ambler as the Long Beach respondent? Is it because a publicity of this photograph and its exhibition in the newspapers would raise a question as to the sufficiency of the identification of Miss Ambler?

—Why did Miss Farrar go to Long Beach alone when she made her visit to the so-called love hunking law of which Miss Ambler was said to be the other occupant? She could not have been accompanied, it was pointed out yesterday, with the fact that suspicious wives on expeditions of investigation were generally careful to be accompanied by witnesses of some reputation who could testify to things which the wife is not permitted to tell about under the adverse law.

Although there are many other pictures of Miss Ambler, many of which are in the hands of the divorce trial were called upon to identify her in a group photograph in which her figure was small and obscure.

All copies and plates of the group have vanished from the files of the attorneys that produce them to all verities "Blind Youth," in which Miss Ambler appeared with Tellegen.

NO EVIDENCE INTRODUCED.
It was recalled that the separation between Miss Farrar and Tellegen was immediately after and was set on June 10, the result of Miss Farrar's visit to Long Beach quarters at Long Beach, his room on the same occasion, it was reported that there was a young woman of a Spanish type sharing Tellegen's quarters. According to the story, she returned to New York City immediately after Tellegen's flight, and she had changed the locks of the door.

HER PHOTOS 'MISSING' IN FARRAR'S SUIT

LORNA AMBLER

New developments in Geraldine Farrar's suit to divorce Lou Tellegen have been introduced by the fact that she has introduced into the case a photograph of a woman who has been identified as Lorna Ambler.

SHOE OUTPUT IN BROCKTON GAINS
Brockton, June 9.—This morning's output of shoes showed the first increase since the first week of May, when the output was 1,000 pairs. The output for the week ending June 7 was 1,000 pairs, an increase of 400 pairs.

400,000 FACING FAMINE IN RUSSIA
The three provinces of Russia are in a state of famine. The manufacturers said a statement today in which they requested their determination to stand by their agreement with the Red and Blue Workers' Union when the strikers began.

66 GRADUATED AT HUNTINGTON SCHOOL
Former Attorney General J. Weston Allen delivered the principal address at the commencement exercises of the Huntington School in Bates, Me., June 8.

BELIEVE PURNELL STILL IN U. S.
St. Joseph, Mich., June 8.—Belief that Purnell, former head of the House of David Colony, is somewhere in the United States was revived today following word from Melbourne, Australia, that he had not been seen in the colony here in the colony maintained here.

LENINE BETTER SINCE REMOVAL FROM KREMLIN
Moscow, June 9 (A.P.).—Acting Premier Katsouris, addressing the Communist party of Moscow, said that Lenin's health had improved since his removal from the Kremlin to a villa near this city.

SURE FROM HEAD SAYS WIFE BEAT HIM UP

James E. Timon, prominent Lynn shoe manufacturer and World War veteran, weathered the storm of war emerging with flying colors and has been a success since the war. Mrs. Timon, 42, says she was beaten by her husband for the first time in their marriage. His last founded on the matrimonial bed.

In a divorce suit filed by Timon against his wife, Teresa, he charges her with cruel and abusive treatment. Incidentally, Mrs. Timon weighs 125 pounds, while her husband tips the scales at 120.

CABLE BRIEFS
Lisbon (P)—The second officer of the steamship Rapa Court is under arrest of police on a charge of killing the captain, the wireless operator and another officer, and abandoning a steamer and a passenger while on the high seas.

400,000 FACING FAMINE IN RUSSIA
Paris—Former Premier Rene Viviani, who collapsed in court, was improved today. The attending physician said he must take several weeks' rest.

LENINE BETTER SINCE REMOVAL FROM KREMLIN
Moscow, June 9 (A.P.).—Acting Premier Katsouris, addressing the Communist party of Moscow, said that Lenin's health had improved since his removal from the Kremlin to a villa near this city.

BELIEVE PURNELL STILL IN U. S.
St. Joseph, Mich., June 8.—Belief that Purnell, former head of the House of David Colony, is somewhere in the United States was revived today following word from Melbourne, Australia, that he had not been seen in the colony here in the colony maintained here.

HARDING PUTS OFF GOVERNORS' PARLEY
Washington, June 9 (U.S.).—Plans for a prohibition conference at the White House between President Harding and the governors of the forty-eight states has been postponed until next August.

AUTO ROUTE AND MAP OF ZEALAND REGION

Outing Queries
By JOHN W. ENGLISH.
Are you planning a fishing, canoeing or hiking trip?
If you are, why not consult the Boston American outing editor? He will help you solve your problems. Careful planning always results in the most satisfactory trips.

FLORENCE HAGERTY BRIDE OF O'CONNOR
The late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Hagerty of Roxbury and Thomas L. O'Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. O'Connor, were married in St. Hugh's Church, Grove Hall, Boston, Saturday.

LENINE BETTER SINCE REMOVAL FROM KREMLIN
Moscow, June 9 (A.P.).—Acting Premier Katsouris, addressing the Communist party of Moscow, said that Lenin's health had improved since his removal from the Kremlin to a villa near this city.

BELIEVE PURNELL STILL IN U. S.
St. Joseph, Mich., June 8.—Belief that Purnell, former head of the House of David Colony, is somewhere in the United States was revived today following word from Melbourne, Australia, that he had not been seen in the colony here in the colony maintained here.

HARDING PUTS OFF GOVERNORS' PARLEY
Washington, June 9 (U.S.).—Plans for a prohibition conference at the White House between President Harding and the governors of the forty-eight states has been postponed until next August.

ZEALAND RIVER DELIGHT OF ANGLERS

Fishermen who want to combine glorious mountain scenery with angling will obtain all their hearts desire by trying Zealand River which drains the Rosebrook chain of the White Mountains, N. H.

Outing Queries
By JOHN W. ENGLISH.
Are you planning a fishing, canoeing or hiking trip?
If you are, why not consult the Boston American outing editor? He will help you solve your problems. Careful planning always results in the most satisfactory trips.

Jordan Marsh Company

Where QUALITY Is Always Dependable

New Wash Goods

In the Very Smartest Mode

The enlarged Wash Goods Section is increasing in popularity with every business day. Never were the colors and weaves shown to better advantage.

All the latest of Fine Gingham has just been received—All the latest patterns in novelty checks, checks and dots, cross bar and dots and many others, 32 inches. Yard... 59c

New Cloth, a combination of rufine and crepe with all the good features of both, in a wide range of beautiful colors; 36 in. Yard... 59c

French Ratine, an imported material in the new mixtures of grays, tans and browns, with stripes, plaids and checks in harmonizing colors, the smart new material for sports wear; 38 in. Yard... 79c

Printed Cotton Canton Crepe, in Egyptian, Chinese and sports designs; light, medium or dark effects; 36 in. Yard... 95c

Devonshire Cloth, in plain colors, stripes and checks, absolutely fast colors and the most practical material for children's dresses and rompers; 32 in. Yard... 39c

Len Checked Cotton Canton Crepe, a drawn thread effect crepe in a complete line of the best 1.25 and 1.50 shades; 36 in. Yard...

Imported Warp Printed Voiles, fast colors, in very beautiful, soft, oriental effects; very desirable for blouses 69c and dresses; 36 in. Yard...

Normandy Voiles, with dots in designs of scrolls or figures. This is a justly popular summer material and is very similar in effect to the St. Gall Swisses. All the good colors. 59c 38 in. Yard...

BIGGEST OUT-DOOR SHOW PLANNED

Forty stage and screen celebrities have been brought together by Marcus Loew to attend the opening of the open air show at Braves Field on Monday, June 23. There will be dancing, fireworks, moving pictures and a big jazz band in the entertainment, which has been arranged in the most elaborate manner in the city during the summer season.

Miss Hyde, a protégé of Paul Whiteman, is recruiting what will be the largest musical aggregation of stars ever known, and Archie Lloyd, New England representative of Irving Berlin, has been committed to secure ten singers to augment the jazz band during the rendition of the dance numbers.

The movie star special will reach Boston in the morning of June 23 and will parade from the station to their headquarters, Jay Foster, special caravanserai from the Metro and film all the activities during the three days. Charles Vidor, who opened Loew's State in this city, will be the active manager of the enterprise.

Discussing the mammoth dance show planned, Mr. Vidor said that it will require the combined efforts of sixty men nightly to be and take away the dancing. With the present stars, dancers will be enabled to step aside from the grand stand from below first base on one side and below third base on the other to the floor. The band will be situated directly in back of home plate.

Automobile parking facilities to accommodate 3,000 have been arranged.

Low Telleen Will Head New Keith Bill

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

Low Telleen, the international actor, is the headline feature at St. James. Keith for the coming week. He is presenting his own one-act play, "Blind Youth." The musical comedy stars Tom Brown and Lillian Broderick, make up another four.

BERNICE SPEAR in "THE RISE OF ROSIE O'REILLY"

OF ROSIE O'REILLY "THE COVERED WAGON"

PLAYS THAT REMAIN

"THE RISE OF ROSIE O'REILLY" at the Tremont. (Fourth week.) George M. Cohan's annual musical comedy production, in which Rosie O'Reilly moves from the Brooklyn water front to upper Fifth avenue.

"LIZA" at the Wilbur. (Third week.) Highly tanned musical comedy, with ducky comedians and nimble-footed dancers setting a fast pace in light-hearted entertainment.

"MOLLY DARLING" at the Colonial. (Third week.) Jack Donahue's eccentric drifter played at good advantage in a beautifully costumed musical play. Crowded with melody, dancing and fun.

"THE MAN WHO CAME BACK" at the St. James. (Third week.) Stirring drama of human regeneration, with many tense situations. Well acted by Mr. Giles' stock company.

"FOLLIES OF THE DAY" at the Gayety. (Sixth week.) Burlesque was never like this in the old days. "Bozo" Snyder and Gertrude Hayes, Jr. lead the frolic and keep things going at high speed.

"THE COVERED WAGON" at the Majestic. (Fourth week.) Impressive photoplay of pioneer days when study Americans moved across the plains in caravans and conquered the untamed West.

NANTASKET CALLS FOR BEAUTY

Bathing girl beauties and wearers of strappy bathing costumes will gather at Nantasket beach on Monday, June 16th. It is expected that more than 400 girls of stunning appearance will assemble on the sands near the Nantasket House to participate in a novel contest that will be followed by the distribution of hundreds of dollars in gold prizes.

Thomas J. Griffin, assistant to General Manager Frederick Laune of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company, will be in charge of the contest. He said that these costumes will be for the beautiful bathing girls. The other contest will be one in which participants will not count. The prizes will be awarded for the most attractive and best appearing bathing suits worn by the contestants.

The two contests will draw to Nantasket Beach the first of the great summer crowds. More contestants than ever in similar contests at Atlantic City and elsewhere are expected, according to Griffin.

In order to qualify for the contest all any girl must do is to register, either personally, by mail, or by telephone, at the office of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company, 7 Bowler's Wharf.

Good Dancing Not Merely Graceful Footwork

Gertrude Saunders, the eccentric comedienne of "Liza," now at the Wilbur, has ideas of her own about what constitutes good dancing. "A dancer," she says, "should do more than just prink gracefully about the stage. She should give her spectators a message, and her dancing should mean something. It must either tell a story or reflect some emotion—happiness, jealousy, anger."

"The actor or actress who simply goes through certain mechanical steps, no matter how gracefully he or she may do it, is not a dancer or an artist. This sort of dancing is uninspired and unsatisfying, more absolutely nothing and only fairly graceful than anything else."

Her dancing actually speaks the language of the dance.

The announcement is made that the motion picture of "Liza" at the Wilbur next Wednesday will begin at ten. This departure from the regular matinee hour is made in order that patrons of the theatre may attend the dramatic demonstration in the afternoon.

NOON MATINEE

The announcement is made that the motion picture of "Liza" at the Wilbur next Wednesday will begin at ten. This departure from the regular matinee hour is made in order that patrons of the theatre may attend the dramatic demonstration in the afternoon.

The announcement is made that the motion picture of "Liza" at the Wilbur next Wednesday will begin at ten. This departure from the regular matinee hour is made in order that patrons of the theatre may attend the dramatic demonstration in the afternoon.

The announcement is made that the motion picture of "Liza" at the Wilbur next Wednesday will begin at ten. This departure from the regular matinee hour is made in order that patrons of the theatre may attend the dramatic demonstration in the afternoon.

The announcement is made that the motion picture of "Liza" at the Wilbur next Wednesday will begin at ten. This departure from the regular matinee hour is made in order that patrons of the theatre may attend the dramatic demonstration in the afternoon.

WALTERS PUTS OVER REAL COME-BACK

A feature of every good vaudeville program of ten years ago was the ventriloquist, a diaphanous individual known under an accumulation of "Dummies" and "Bolls," who threw his voice around with apparent ease and made his life-like figures carry on rather jerky and monotonous conversations. Yet, in spite of its silliness, its jerkiness, the ventriloquist act was one of the most popular on the circuit.

But a flood of jazz engulfed the efforts of ventriloquists, and within a few jumps ago, the act faded out of the vaudeville horizon altogether.

Then a youth named Walter, a Brooklyn boy whose maternal ability in ventriloquism had made him one of Brooklyn's foremost amateur entertainers, conceived the idea of surrounding this old time attraction with an up-to-date plan and setting and bringing it into vogue.

Being somewhat of an artist, he created a life-sized jiffy, dressed it up in a blue sailor suit, put a round little hat over one eye, and brought it a life-size. Then he and this infant prodigy—who looked for all the world like a flesh and blood youngster—were ordered into the spotlight of the R. P. Keith circuit and will reach Boston next week.

"The Affairs of Lady Bottom," a picture with an all-Boston cast, made under the auspices of the Boston American, will be featured all this week at the Washington, along with its European counterpart, "The Affairs of Lady Hamilton," which deals with one of the celebrated beauties of 18th century England. Tom Mix in "Stepping Fast," and other attractions are also on the bill.

CITY CONCERTS TO START ON JUNE 17

The opening date for the band concert in Greater Boston, a feature of the summer season, has been set for June 17 if the plans of Deputy Commissioner Long are accepted by the park commission. The commission will meet Wednesday to accept or modify the program as mapped out by Mr. Long.

Concerts every Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 on the Boston Common are a part of this program. The concerts, under the auspices of the Metropolitan Park Commission, will not start until July 4, according to Mr. Bailey, chairman of the committee.

BURTON HOLMES GATHERS TRAVELING MATERIAL

Burton Holmes, of the "Traveling Circus," has just completed his airplane trip around the world, landing at Moscow, and is now en route to Europe, where he will be the topic of one of the "Traveling Circus" shows.

PERFORMANCES AT J. AND P. M.

PERFORMANCES AT J. AND P. M.

PERFORMANCES AT J. AND P. M.

PERFORMANCES AT J. AND P. M.

Queen of the Ring GIRL RIDER SCORPUS FEATURE

Possibly the most famous rider in circulation today is Myrtle Compton, daughter of Cy Compton, leader of the Wild West contingent with the Famous Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined circuses. Still in her teens, Miss Compton has already broken records as an intrepid rider of the bucking broncho. In fact, she is the only girl who has succeeded in handling these tempestuous steeds with the same skill and strength that men have shown in subduing them.

Myrtle won two first prizes at the famous rodeo held at Cheyenne, Wyoming. Previous to these trips she had started the West by her successes in "breakin'" and mastering wild horses in Utah. Her dad who is the champion rider of bucking bronchos is very proud of her.

More than 100 horses will be found in the "Ringling Bros." circus every day, by the way, in the "Scorpus" term for horse's foot. The equines are under the supervision of Fred Brann, the French equestrian director, and John Allen, American rider and trainer.

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

AT EVERY PERFORMANCE

COINCIDENCE AND ART MINGLE

By a peculiar coincidence the general manager of the local Shubert houses, including the Majestic Theatre, where "The Covered Wagon" is playing, belongs to a pioneer family, and his grandmother, Charlotte J. Bell, was the first actress to reach the scene of the California gold fever in '49 by Arthur J. Shubert.

"Covered wagon" route. An extraordinary memento of her successes is a beautifully chased antique watch, the gift of her admirers of nearly 75 years ago. The works are Swiss, and the casing was made from the first gold dug out of the celebrated Mariposa mine. Arthur J. Shubert, the Shubert general manager, has had this memento in his family for three generations. The story is best told in his words: "Grandmother had the ability and good fortune to become the leading stock actress of San Francisco during the pioneer days. She was the favorite Juliet, Ophelia, Rosalind and Katherine, surpassing all the visiting stars including Booth, Forrest, and Edwin Booth. She was a great showman upon her. The watch presentation was a redoubtable occasion, for it resulted in winning over obstacles and hardships and was the emblem of her stanning the gold which she and many other pioneer scholars travelers across the desert had sought."

"Charlotte J. Bell gave the watch to her son A. H. Shubert, who lived in the East and was for many years the principal comedian of Wood's Museum, New York city. When I reached the age of sixteen Grandmother expressed the wish that I should have it. I went to work as assistant treasurer of Dulcy Theatre, remodelled from the old Museum, and brought the watch home with me. I had reached man's estate. Later in life its premonitions dawned upon me, and I put it in a safe. There it might have lain half a lifetime had not the play at the Majestic revived my mind to the old pioneering days of which I had often heard and which made me think and touching incidents."

STATE BALLROOM

The refreshing coolness of the atmosphere at the State Ballroom, where regular summer dances are held every Thursday and Friday evenings, has given great delight to many dancers who have patronized these events since the installation of a new cooling and ventilating system.

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

Amusements

ROMANCE AND DOPE IN PLAY AT ST. JAMES

SHANGHAI: Adelyn Bushnell as Marcelle. THE DEPTHS... Anna Loring as Mrs. Saynes. 'FRISCO: Ralph Remley as Capt. Sullivan. NEW YORK EXILED... Walter Gilbert as Harry Potter. NEW YORK AGAIN: Edward G. Revillon. FINIS...

POPS ENTER SIXTH BIG WEEK

The celebrated Pop Concerts in Symphony Hall will open their sixth week tomorrow night with an operatic program (the third Sunday Pop Concert of the season). Much music of special interest will be given on the Pops program of the coming week. Conductor Argle Jacobsen's program for tomorrow follows:

VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES

ORPHEUM—"Is Divorce a Failure?" a melodramatic photoplay, accompanied by the personal appearance of its star, Leah Baird, who will appear at Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday performances. The vaudeville section will be headed by the Kirmish Sisters in a mélange of melody and synchronization. TREMONT TEMPLE—"D. W. Griffith's production of "Way Down East." The engagement is limited to a single week. LOEW'S STATE—"The Girl Who Came Back," featuring Miriam Cooper, also Clara Kimball Young in "Cordelia the Magnificent." HUNTON—"Betty Rhyme in "The Truth About Wives" and Buster Keaton in "The Love Nest." Also a series of vaudeville. MODERN AND BRACON—"Vanity Fair," with Mabel Ballin as Becky Sharp, also "Ars Versus Guilty" and a Buster Keaton comedy, "The Love Nest." CAPITOL—"Westbound Limited," featuring Ralph LaRue, and "Judging the Next Best Thing," starring the Mask. STRAND—Harold Lloyd in "Safety Last" and Will Rogers in "Foolish Fiddlers." LANCASTER—"Java Head" and "Facing Haru," for three days beginning Thursday. "The Hair Bread" and "Temptation." SCOLLAY SQUARE—John Lowell in "Lost in a Big City," also a vaudeville bill made up of seven features. BOWDWIN SQUARE—Mabel Norwood in "Sensational," a William Fox feature film, "Bucking the Barrier," and Buster Keaton in "The Love Nest."

SEEKS CHILD LOST SINCE BIRTH

New Bedford, June 9.—Feeling that her child may be near at hand and wanting to will her property to a daughter, believed to be living in this city and when she has not seen since a few months following her birth here in 1893, Mrs. Josephine Maguire, retired actress, now living on a little farm in Covington, La., has written to Chief of Police Doherty asking him to aid in the search for the daughter, Mrs. Maguire writes that her daughter's name was Miss Emma Lambert.

TAMMANY HALL MAY MOVE UP TOWN

South Hadley, June 9.—Thirteen girls of the senior class at Mount Holyoke are engaged, according to announcement made by the class.

HIGH SPOTS MISS GREELY'S WEDDING TODAY WILL BE IN BOZO'S CAREER

"The newsmen of today are typical of the business genius that has put America to the front among the nations of the world. In their youthful alertness, keenness and industry they are juvenile samples of the enterprise of our modern adult business men. I was a newsboy once and I know how they hustle."

By BETTY ALDEN. THIS William W. Claffin has recently joined the industry in gay Paris, where Mrs. Claffin's business interests promise to keep them for an indefinite period. It was a year ago last May that Ruth Putnam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Putnam, became the bride of the Harvard '29 man. Later the young people made their home for a while on West Cedar street. Mrs. Claffin, member of the Vincent club, made her debut in 1918-20, along with dainty Elizabeth Lyman, who's Mrs. Tom Rice now, hereaftering Rosamond Alden, who took as active a part as ever at the Horse Show held on Chestnut Hill way last week. Monte-haired Pendergast Curtis, homebound tonight from a trip around the globe with her mother, Mrs. Edward U. Curtis, and her sister, pretty "Blair" Caswell, with her light hair and dark eyes; also that tall brunette, Elmer Jackson, who, I believe, is now travelling abroad with her mother, Mrs. James M. Jackson. Approx. of the Claffins, Mrs. George Endicott Peckham (shown in picture), who was one of her water-lilies bride-maidens, has just sailed for a three-month trip to Europe with Mrs. William O. Peckham (Claffin's Cousin-in-law) and the latter's sister, Mrs. Frank Wigglesworth (Isabella Cousin-in-law) of Boston. The former Sarah Bernhardt once makes her home at Cedarhurst, Long Island, where Mrs. Morgan's home is now in Chicago.

"I started my stage training as a circus boy, carrying water for the elephants and doing other boy's work under the 'big top.' Then I became a clown and took up painting. But before I joined a circus I had a mighty lively whirl at selling newspapers, earning by my living at it, too. I had run away from home, you see, and I shifted for myself. I got a 'break' from an older newsboy, bought a few papers, sold them, bought more and finally was a 'going concern' in a small way."

"That was in Chicago. In those days, as well as today, a newsboy had to be on the job every second he had to be able to protect himself, hold his customers, look out for his stock in trade, his papers, and keep out of trouble as much as possible."

"Fight? Of course, I had to fight. I took up a lot of offensive and defensive tactics. By the time I joined the circus I was able to look out for myself pretty well for a kid of my years and size. It was a rough life, but I taught independence and self-reliance, which are invaluable assets. I like newsboys and I never buy a newspaper one without wishing him all the success in the world."

Untamed Mule Makes Fun at Norumbega Park

Berens's Circus is still delighting thousands of people who visit Norumbega Park. Intense interest is always centered upon "Bozo," an untamed mule who has been captured at Norumbega, Maine. Bozo has been compelled to recede gradually for several days, but enough to enter the enclosure and his chains with his feet, and heels. Several times the mule's

Mrs. William W. Claffin (Ruth Putnam), member of the Vincent club and the Bowing Circle, who, with Mr. Claffin, is making her home in Paris for an indefinite period.

PROMINENT among the smart weddings on today's social calendar is the ceremonial which will transform pretty "Blair" Graydon into the bride of Jonathan Brown Jr. It will be solemnized at four o'clock this afternoon in the Old South church.

The bride, a member of the Vincent club and the 1920 Senior class in the daughter of the Norman Frost Knowles of Beacon street, Miss Gretchen Brown, sister of the groom, the latter a M. I. T. man, has been selected as maid of honor. In the bridesmaids group are the Misses Esther Baker, Elizabeth Abbott, Mary Gannett, Eleanor Hatchler, Eleanor Hollander, as well as Mrs. Nelson Hough and Mrs. Charles A. Welch 2nd (Ruth Verrill).

Following a long wedding journey abroad, the young folks will make their home on Charles River road.

MR. AND MRS. C. GRANT LAFARGE of New York—the former a member of the Seneca Club here—have already arrived at their summer home in Fairmount, N. Y. In the Naragansett region (Fairmount) last week they met several of the well-known author, Owen Winter of Philadelphia.

From Monday the Lafarges' son, Christopher C. Lafarge, a Harvard '29 man, will marry Miss Louise Alton of Boston and Washington, for the ceremony taking place in the latter city.

BEAUTIFUL POPULAR NORUMBEGA ON THE CHALLENGE NOW OPEN AND IN FULL SWING VISIT KING TUTANKHAMEN'S TOMBS SUNDAY ITALIAN SYMPHONY ORCH. RAFFAEL MANTOVANI 25-MUSICIANS—40 S and S. P. M. First American Appearance—RENEAL SHENOEN, Tenor. Direct from Rio Janeiro Success. NOW GOING TO CAPACITY CROWDS—THE NEW CATERPILLAR AND SEAPLANE CHAUVES SOURIS—Best Dinners PALAIS DE DANSE ORCHESTRA DANCING EVERY EVENING VAUDEVILLE—TWICE DAILY—CHARGE THURSDAY FREE CONCERTS—FREE BAND FROM ALL POINTS ON THE BOSTON ELEVATED

Grand Opening Exhibition at NANTASKET BEACH BATHING BEAUTY FASHION SHOW Monday, June 18, at 4.00 P.M. GIRLS OF NEW ENGLAND ELIGIBLE HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS IN PRIZES Music by the POPULAR 40-Piece Band A Spectacle of BEAUTY AND FUN FOR EVERYONE TO ENJOY Enter the big contest now. Mail or leave names and addresses with Secretary of the Bathing Beauty Fashion Show, 7 Row's Wharf. Contestants must appear at Nantasket Hotel not later than 3.30 P. M., Monday, June 18.

NANTASKET BEACH BOSTON'S ONLY HARBOR SAIL PARAGON PARK Amusements for Young and Old SPECIAL—June 18, 1923—SPECIAL In the evening the winners will appear in costumes on the Plaza of the new $200,000 Palace Casino. Prizes will be awarded. See them under the spot light. Extra fireworks and attractions. ALL STEAMERS LEAVE FROM ROWE'S WHARF, BOSTON

WASHINGTON Theatre ALL NEXT WEEK "THE AFFAIRS OF LADY BOSTON" Entire Local Cast Produced in Boston Under the Direction of "The Boston American."

COLONIAL DELINGER, DILLINGER & CIGARETTE—Directors THOMAS & LOVING—TOP NIGHTS AT 8:15 SHARP—MATS. WED. & SAT. 2:15

AT 3 THEATRES SIMULTANEOUSLY SINGULAR LEWIS' MAIN STREET FLORENCE VIGOR; MONTE BLU; HARRY MEYERS & GREAT CAST MODERN PARK BEACON FENWAY PARK Today at 3 O'clock RED SOX vs. CHICAGO Seats at Wright & Wilkes Prices from $1.75

MOLLY DARLING AMERICA'S CHAMPION COMIC MARY MILBURN CLARENCE NORDSTROM JAY GOULD AND THE SWEET GREAT ORIGINAL COSTA BIG DANCING CHORUS OF GLORIOUS GIRLS JACK DONAGUE THE PLAIN WITH THE LAUGHING FEET NIGHTS & SAT. MATS. 50c to $2.50. WED. MAT. 50c to $2.00

The Great American Picture At Last "The COVERED WAGON" Jesse L. Lasky presents MAJESTIC IDENTICAL PRODUCTIONS NOW PLAYING TO CAPACITY IN GREAT "KEY" CITIES CRITERION THEATRE NEW YORK 100 WEEK WOODS THEATRE CHICAGO 100 WEEK CROWDERS THEATRE LOS ANGELES 100 WEEK This gigantic film will not be shown in any other theaters in any city in America this season.

GAYETY THEATRE TWICE DAILY 2:10 & 8:10 MONDAY EVE—GALA SOCIETY NIGHT LAST 2 WEEKS BUT FEW CHANCES REMAIN FOR YOU TO SEE THE GAYETY OF THE DAY UNLESS YOU HURRY IMMENSE CROWDS HAVE FILLED THE THEATRE AT PLENTY OF TIMES LAST WEEK. BARNEY GERARD'S FOLLIES OF THE DAY WITH BOZO SNYDER 1200 MAN WHO NEVER SPEAKS— GERTRUDE HAYES JR., SAM GREEN, HARRY SEYMOUR SECURE YOUR SEATS NOW—Tel. Beach 0039

Shakespeare said: "What's in a name?" Conan says: "A Rose named O'Reilly is the nicest in the whole wide world." GEORGE M. COHAN'S COMEDIANS THE RISE OF ROSE O'REILLY THE GREATEST AGGREGATION OF SINGING & DANCING AMERICANS EVER CATHOED TOGETHER TREMONT THEATRE CONAN PRICES 50c-2.50 POP. MAT. WED. 2.00-2.50 10c-2.50 10c-2.50 10c-2.50

WILBUR Theatre Another Middle Size Thursday-Complete "Liza" Show at Regular Night Prices THE 3rd BIG WEEK That You See DANCE: "Liza" is a play in one act, and city was seen at 12:15 and 8:15. PEP: "Liza" is a play in one act, and city was seen at 12:15 and 8:15. GIRLS: "Liza" is a play in one act, and city was seen at 12:15 and 8:15. BEAUTY: "Liza" is a play in one act, and city was seen at 12:15 and 8:15. WALDRON'S CASINO Jimmie Cooper's Black & White Show

NOVEL OF THE YEAR

FRANKIE & JOE

Warner Fabian
A Family Doctor

2ND SECTION-HOME NEWS

More Pictures, Comics, Fiction and Features than any other Boston Newspaper

MISSING BRIDE REPORTS TO POLICE

Quits Job as Maid, Hides in Town Rope

AFRAID TO TELL HER EMPLOYER

Wife of War Vet, Servant in Swampscott House, Leaves in a Novel Manner

Young Mrs. Bertha Jones was afraid to tell her employers, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bourgeois of No. 1015 State road, Swampscott, that she was quitting her job as maid without notice.

So she still down a blanket rope at night from her two and one-half story window with her hand-baggage and departed.

A quaking autist spied the blanket rope dangling down the front of the house and asked the family what was the matter upstairs—maybe a burglar.

They found a note asking forgiveness for hasty departure and method used, also stating that Mrs. Jones did not have the courage to tell them she was homesick and must quit without notice.

She asked that any mail be sent to her home in Bradford, N. H.

Mrs. Jones, who is twenty-two, is the wife of a wounded war veteran at Chelsea Naval Hospital. She visited him Thursday and was crying around the Bourgeois home pretty much of Friday. But she would not tell why.

She went upstairs, apparently to bed, after her supper dishes were washed. Then she went out via the window and blanket rope later, while the family was still in the lower part of the house.

Mrs. Jones had worked for the family several months and had given satisfaction.

AARON, MISSING BROKER, FOUND IN CANADA

Major E. Milton Aaron Englewood, N. J., broker, who mysteriously disappeared from the Mercer House early in May, and for whom the police and private detectives searched in vain, has been found in Canada by his wife. It was learned today.

Aaron is being sought by New Jersey authorities for alleged theft of jewelry from Leon Chanaud, jeweler of Union Hill, N. J., said to be valued at $12,150. For a time the Wolf Detective Agency was retained by Mrs. Aaron to find the missing man, but, giving no reason for his act, Mrs. Aaron suddenly called off the detectives and apparently dropped the search.

Therapist that he had been murdered, the Boston police and detectives to work along these lines. Mrs. Aaron said that this procedure was dropped when the wife's hunt was for some time.

It is believed that Mrs. Aaron has been in communication with her husband for some time.

Carridge Co. Raises Pay Lowell, June 9.—A 10 per cent. wage increase, affecting 900 employees, was announced today by the United States Carridge Company to become effective July 1.

DESK A WEDDING CANOPY

MISS GLADYS SHERIDAN

switchboard operator for the Edward E. Bates Company of 215 Summer street, Boston, for two years, found her desk today transformed into a wedding canopy made of paper and covered with plaques of many and varied inscriptions of luck, happiness and advice for marital felicity placed there by her fellow workers. She leaves today to become the bride of Chester Brown, also of Salmon, on June 22. They will be married by the Rev. Kerrigan of St. James Church in Salem. The couple will make their home in Newton Highlands, where Brown has his floral business.

MR. JAMES CHURCH

Several hundred women employed in the State House today appealed to Governor Cox, asking him to prevent Thomas W. White, commissioner of personnel, from ruining their plans for a reception next Monday to Mrs. Susan W. Fitzgerald and Miss M. Sylvia Donaldson, the two first women to sit in a Massachusetts Legislature.

Reports that White is unscrupulous in his methods of spreading through the State Department this week and culminated in a special meeting today of the committee of twenty-five heads of departments in charge of the event.

A committee consisting of Miss Altes H. Crosby, deputy commissioner of savings bank life insurance, and Mrs. Elizabeth V. Molony, State supervisor of nurses, said, waited on Governor Cox, asking him to go ahead with their plans and he would see that they were not interfered with.

"No woman employee will suffer if she is late arriving at her work," he said, and notified each of the women of the time to arrive on Monday, and the board rescinded its action.

While passes on all increases in pay, working conditions and other matters of prime importance to State employees, he said.

He is also Governor Cox's closest friend, and was notified each of the women of the time to arrive on Monday, and the board rescinded its action.

While passes on all increases in pay, working conditions and other matters of prime importance to State employees, he said.

He is also Governor Cox's closest friend, and was notified each of the women of the time to arrive on Monday, and the board rescinded its action.

He is also Governor Cox's closest friend, and was notified each of the women of the time to arrive on Monday, and the board rescinded its action.

He is also Governor Cox's closest friend, and was notified each of the women of the time to arrive on Monday, and the board rescinded its action.

He is also Governor Cox's closest friend, and was notified each of the women of the time to arrive on Monday, and the board rescinded its action.

COX HEARS YOUNG WIFE

PROTEST

YOUNG WIFE, PROTEST

YOUNG WIFE, PROTEST

YOUNG WIFE, PROTEST

Lawrence, June 9.—Mrs. Florence Blaisdel, the seventeen-year-old bride whose husband said she was kidnapped by Pedro Searo in an automobile the evening of May 11, suddenly walked into Lawrence police station today.

"I simply accepted a ride to a friend's automobile," she said, "and I did not know where I was going. Since that time I have been staying with friends in Boston."

The bride surprised the police for the first time.

"My husband was invited on the auto ride, but he would not go," she said. "This was wholly unexpected at the time, and I was very much surprised."

She described as a former sweetheart, the man who had been with her father's home May 3, according to the police, and asked her to go away. She told him she had remained in the house and had not seen him since.

The evening of May 11 Blaisdel and her husband were returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

Blaisdel said she was returning from work. On Common street, as they were driving, she saw a car in the curb. A man jumped out, seized the bride and asked her to go with him. She said she had not seen him since.

START THIS BIG, NEW STORY TODAY

Mona Feutris, young, beautiful and the wife of a consulting engineer, has been told by her physician, Bob Osterhout, who is in love with her, that she has only a short time to live. Mona gives a gay party, telling Pat to go to bed, but the latter borrows a sister's dress, steals downstairs and has "a taste of life." Connie goes to a dance at the club and takes too much punch. She is brought home by Fred Browning in whose room she stayed. Sel Thorpe gives Pat a "real" kiss.

NOW GO ON WITH THIS ENTHRALLING STORY.

Back copies may be secured at the Boston American office free.

CHAPTER VI

PAT twitched her face away from his. Immediately her alarm gave place to a stimulus of sheer delight. She had distinctly felt him tremble. An ephebe discovery! For she was, herself, quite cool. She possessed then the mysterious power to arouse men out of themselves, while remaining self-possessed, to affect them in this strange manner more than she herself was moved.

"Pat, dear!" whispered the youth, arid and insistent. He had seemed to seem fearfully old to her now; she was his superior. She kissed him again, but lightly and pushed him back.

"Bad bunny!" she mocked. "We ought not to, Sel." "Oh, what's the harm?" "Someone might come in."

"Come outside, then." "Oh, let's go back and dance. I'm afraid of you." She gave him a sidelong glance with this gratuitous lie. "Come. I love this trot."

They danced it out, he holding her closer than before, she letting her cheek press his from time to time. She yearned to the feeling of his young strength, yet was quite content for the time, with the experience of the evening as far as it had gone. When they returned to her, his sophomore assurance was quite tempered down; the untamed child whom he had danced with condescendingly and as a kindness earlier in the evening, was become imperatively desirable now. He chafed at her aloof attitude.

"I'm coming to see you," he said with an attempt at masterfulness in his tone. "I'll come tomorrow. Keep the evening open."

She shook her head. "I'm going back to school." "Are you?" He looked dispirited. "Will you write to me, Pat?"

"Can't." "Well—yes, you'll be home for vacation, won't you?" "Of course."

"So'll I. I was going to a house party on Staten Island. But if you'll be here I'm coming back." "Will you?" Her tone was almost indifferent, though she was adams with triumph, inwardly. "That's nice to me."

"I will if you'll be glad to see me." "Of course I will." "Awfully glad!" he pressed. "Oh, I don't know about all that," replied Pat, the coquette.

"You're going to kiss me goodbye!" he pleaded. "Perhaps. Just a little one." "When she had slipped from his embrace, her gaze was far away.

"What are you thinking of now?" he asked jealously. "Of Connie." "What of her?" "I wonder where they are now. I was thinking," she continued as if speaking to herself, "that I'd like to see her tomorrow morning."

"Why tomorrow morning?" asked Thorpe. He was a youth of slow imagination, but he was not stupid. Suddenly he laughed. "Oh!" he cried. "So that's the idea! You little devil!" "No; it isn't," denied Pat, her cheeks flaming, and ran back to the bathroom.

At the entrance she collided with Scott Vincent, who was looking for a vanished partner.

"Pardon!" he said, cleverly saving her from a recoil.

Continued on Page 17, Column 1.

SHORTAGE OF GAS WATER HEATERS FACE BUILDERS

House builders are facing a shortage of gas water heaters, according to The Real Estate Owners Supply
Company of No. 55 Union street,
Boston. There is an unprecedented demand for the heaters, which is the record breaking number of new residences under construction, and to the large number of other homes that are being equipped with heaters.

While this organization was frugate enough to obtain a large supply of gas heaters early in the spring, they are now unable to obtain more. Home builders are advised by Mr. Samuels, president of the company, to place their orders now, even though delivery is not desired until Fall. No advance has been made to price, though new models, from present indications, will be considerably more than those in stock.

Business in all lines of plumbing and heating supply continue to be good, according to the committee.
The committee has been unable to supply its native-born district wherever water supply is not adequate. The sudden drawing of the market of available stock here in Boston has been a serious problem and they are working to get the water supply adequate.

DON'T FORGET KIDDIES IS ADVICE OF MERCHANT

"When preparing for vacation, I don't forget the kids. I'm president of the Father's Club at the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Chamber for a Barber Company, the popular summer store hardware store. "While we naturally have a complete line of vacation equipment for the grownups, the thing we are proud of this season is the variety of reliable vacation things we have assembled for the children. These lines of vacation equipment, in shape, windmills of every pattern and beach tools and household necessities that will help the kids have a little heart-killing fun. "For men and women we have this season a larger-than-usual assortment of fishing tackle, fly-fishing, tennis rackets, and a sporting equipment. Every indication points to a record-breaking demand for sporting goods, and we have the largest stock of wares to meet the needs of our most fastidious and discerning of sport."

EFFICIENT BROKERAGE SERVICE
Send for our Weekly Market Letter
Consult our Service Bureau concerning your investment problems
WITHINGTON & CO.
27 State Street, Boston
Private Branch Exchange, Boston 7607

DO YOU OWN ANY UNLISTED STOCKS?
 WE WILL SEND FREE SEND FOR YOU QUOTATIONS OUR LIST.
92 PHILLIPS & COMPANY, Inc. 92
 State St. Private Exchange Congress 3689-3-5-6711 State St.

INVESTMENTS
Circular on request
J. H. DUBE & CO.
Est. 1888

OSBORNE
Office Furniture Co.
Business Furniture
Filing Equipment
CORNER HIGH AND PEARL STS.
Phone Congress 3422

68 Devonshire St.,
Boston, Mass.

50 Broad St.,
N. Y. City

W. E. WILSON & CO.
Members
New York Curb Exchange
Special Information on Listed and Unlisted Stocks
COT 67435 7135 60 Congress St., Boston

Wilmington & Company
Stocks & Bonds
101 Milk Street
Haverhill—BOSTON—Brookton

T. F. MANNING & CO. 68 Devonshire St., Boston Telephone CONgress 6156 Market Letter and Reports on listed stocks sent upon request	E. H. Walker & Co. 79 MILK ST. BOSTON, MASS PHONES: CONgress 1080, 1897, 1898
---	--

THE ARISING PRINTING CO.
201 SOUTH ST., BOSTON
We Write Copy, Illustrate
Print, Bind and Mail.
Branch 4960-4961

G. F. REDMOND & CO.,
INC.
STOCKS AND BONDS
BOUGHT SOLD QUOTED

19 Congress St., - Boston
Phone Congress 6700

YEAR AFTER YEAR

EACH succeeding year that adds to the strength and stability of this nation's vast woolen and worsted industry as a whole emphasizes the steadfast leadership of the American Woolen Company in the weaving of fine fabrics for the men and women of the world.

Boston 7, Mass. American Woolen Company
Elliott Root, President

GAS

WATER HEATING

Restaurants, Clubs: Heat your water with gas—it is automatic. Save labor, discomfort from coal and get positive service.

GAS

Our Engineers Are at Your Service. Call us.

1000
1000
USES !

LET US FIND A NEW USE FOR YOU

Ruston Consolidated Usa Co

SPORTING AMERICAN

WILLARD BETTER FIGHTER THAN EVER, SAYS JEFFRIES

Harvard Crews Forced to Work Out in Storm

WILL GIVE FIRPO A BATTLE

By JAMES J. HILLIS
Former Heavyweight Champion

LADD'S CAR IS TAKEN BY COACH

Reluctant to admit it, despite the imminent weather, Coach Miller caught Ladd's Harvard motor car last night on the way down the street to the Harvard Athletic Union. The car was taken by the coach and the driver, Ladd, was forced to walk home. The car was taken by the coach and the driver, Ladd, was forced to walk home.

MR. GALLAGHER & MR. SHEAN

Tune Up, Tune Up

Words by Jo. Kewling
Pictures by Charlie Schmidt

Haverhill Coach

ROXBURY ROOTS FOR SHEVLIN TO WIN

American Gave Fans Baseball News First

QUAKER STARS AND NEW YORK IN NET PLAY

Channel Swimmer

Columbia Crews Get First Spin

Philadelphia, June 6.—The Columbia crew, which has been in the water for a week, will start its first spin today. The crew is expected to be in good shape for the upcoming season.

IRISH DEFENCE FIELD DAY JUNE 18

BAR MISS COLLETT FROM TITLE GOLF

New York, June 6.—Miss Collett, who has been the champion of the Bar Miss Golf tournament, has been defeated by Miss Smith in the final round. Miss Collett is expected to return to the tournament next year.

MISS RYAN AGAIN WINS ENGLISH NET TITLE

Manchester, Eng., June 6.—Miss Ryan, who has been the champion of the English Net tournament, has won the title for the second year. Miss Ryan is expected to defend her title next year.

GREGG, STAR ATHLETE TO ENTER WEST POINT

QUINN'S DEAL FOR RED SOX ALL BUT MADE

S. O. S.—Same old story. The reproductions above give the ball fans another example of just how far the American is ahead of its competitors in sports as in every other branch of the news. We hate to brag about ourselves, but if you want to be a live wire sport, you MUST read the Boston American Sporting Pages.

SWARTHMORE STAR SIGNED BY CARDINALS

A star athlete from Swarthmore College has been signed by the St. Louis Cardinals. The athlete is expected to join the team for the upcoming season.

CHARITY BOUTS UNDER PROBE BY M. D.

A series of charity bouts has been under investigation by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. The department is concerned about the health and safety of the participants in the bouts.

Ames to Lead Maine

Orono, Me., June 6.—Ames, who has been the champion of the Maine Amateur tournament, is expected to lead the team in the upcoming season.

NEW YORK WOMEN WIN GRISCOM CUP

Philadelphia, June 6.—The New York women's team has won the Griscom Cup, which is awarded to the winner of the annual tournament. The team is expected to defend their title next year.

Boston American Ring Results

At Brooklyn—Jack Sharkey, New York, 2nd round over Mike Brown, New York, 2 rounds.
At Long Branch, N. J.—Jimmy McPhee, Long Island City, 2nd round over Dutch Brand, Brooklyn, 12 rounds.
At Brooklyn Beach—Zeno Smith, Long Island City, 1st round over Vincent Salvatore, 1st round.
At Haverhill—Vale Friedman, Haverhill, 1st round over John Anderson, Milwaukee, 1st round.

Sarazen to Report British Open Golf for American

Gene Sarazen, one of the world's best golfers, is expected to report on the British Open Golf tournament for American fans. Sarazen is a champion golfer and has won several major tournaments.

SIX GAMES CARDED FOR HARVARD HOCKEY

Harvard University has carded six games for its hockey team. The games are expected to be played during the upcoming season.

REPORT CARDINALS AFTER REUTHER

The St. Louis Cardinals are expected to report on the performance of Reuther. Reuther is a star athlete and has been a key player for the team.

WORCESTER COUNTY TRACK MEET TODAY

A track and field meet is scheduled for today in Worcester County. The meet is expected to be a successful one and will attract a large crowd of spectators.

Games Wanted Tomorrow

A list of games and events is scheduled for tomorrow. The events include basketball, football, and track and field.

BRITTON WINS OVER COWBOY PADGETT

Britton has won a match over Cowboy Padgett. The match was a close one and was watched by a large crowd of spectators.

Syracuse Winner

Syracuse has won a match. The match was a hard-fought one and was a victory for the Syracuse team.

WIDE IN GREAT FORM

Jimmy, the flyweight champion, is showing great form in his daily training stunts for his go with Coffee Company's Pacer.

SPORTING BOSTON AMERICAN

WILSON HEADED TO STARDOM

Frank Wilson, Boston College star outfielder, has hopes of some day playing in the "big show." He is fast, stout, has weight and can hit.

RAGGED TWILIGHT BALL KILLING GAME IN BEST SECTIONS

NEW BLOOD IS NEEDED TO PEP UP TEAMS

Dempsey Going to Beat the Band

CLINTON TO TRY TO MAKE IT 13 WINS IN ROW

SANDE PILOTS ZEV IN BELMONT STAKES

By JOHN B. GILLOOLY
Sporting Editor

John B. Gillooly

The baseball season is now in full swing, and the fans are beginning to get a taste of the excitement and drama of the game. The teams are in excellent form, and the competition is fierce. The fans are looking for new blood to pep up the teams, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

Same Conditions Exist in Malden Also. In Malden, the baseball season is also in full swing. The teams are in excellent form, and the competition is fierce. The fans are looking for new blood to pep up the teams, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

No Alibi for the Poor Brand in These Districts

The baseball season is now in full swing, and the fans are beginning to get a taste of the excitement and drama of the game. The teams are in excellent form, and the competition is fierce. The fans are looking for new blood to pep up the teams, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

COLLEGE SPORTS

Slow Trial Over Four-Mile Course Peaves Yale Crew Coach

By CHARLES E. PARKER

Charles E. Parker

The Yale crew team has been in excellent form throughout the season. The coach, however, has been slow to trial the team over a four-mile course. The team is looking for a pep up, and the coach is looking for ways to improve their performance. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

Leading Batters in the Major Leagues

AMERICAN	Ab.	Bl.	At.
Holmes, Det.	42	140	173
Rick, Wash.	41	135	161
Reid, Bos.	40	130	155
Burns, Bos.	39	125	148
Jamison, Cle.	37	120	140

NATIONAL	Ab.	Bl.	At.
Wheat, Brook.	38	135	161
Gorman, Pitts.	37	130	155
Nolan, Phila.	36	125	148
McCambe, St. L.	35	120	140
Young, N. Y.	34	115	135

LEXINGTON'S TEAMS BOOKED FOR MONDAY

Two of the athletic outfits of the Lexington, Ky., team have been booked for Monday. The teams are in excellent form, and the competition is fierce. The fans are looking for new blood to pep up the teams, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

Dempsey Going to Beat the Band

The arrival of Dempsey at Great Falls, Montana, brought out the entire population, headed by a band. The champion took a few lessons in hitting the drum, after which he met Dan Tracy, a former boxer, who put one right over on the Tiger Man's jaw.

AT THE RACETRACKS

Latonia Entries
1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28
29	30	31	32
33	34	35	36
37	38	39	40
41	42	43	44
45	46	47	48
49	50	51	52
53	54	55	56
57	58	59	60
61	62	63	64
65	66	67	68
69	70	71	72
73	74	75	76
77	78	79	80
81	82	83	84
85	86	87	88
89	90	91	92
93	94	95	96
97	98	99	100

Belmont Entries

1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28
29	30	31	32
33	34	35	36
37	38	39	40
41	42	43	44
45	46	47	48
49	50	51	52
53	54	55	56
57	58	59	60
61	62	63	64
65	66	67	68
69	70	71	72
73	74	75	76
77	78	79	80
81	82	83	84
85	86	87	88
89	90	91	92
93	94	95	96
97	98	99	100

Blue Bonnet Entries

1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28
29	30	31	32
33	34	35	36
37	38	39	40
41	42	43	44
45	46	47	48
49	50	51	52
53	54	55	56
57	58	59	60
61	62	63	64
65	66	67	68
69	70	71	72
73	74	75	76
77	78	79	80
81	82	83	84
85	86	87	88
89	90	91	92
93	94	95	96
97	98	99	100

WINNER OF THE PREAKNESS, HAS FOLLOWS

War, the winner of the Preakness, has a following of fans who are looking for him to win the Kentucky Derby. The fans are looking for a pep up, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

Rain Postpones Games

The baseball games scheduled for today have been postponed due to rain. The fans are looking for a pep up, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

Golf Tourney Today

The golf tournament is scheduled for today. The fans are looking for a pep up, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

Dufferin Park Entries

1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28
29	30	31	32
33	34	35	36
37	38	39	40
41	42	43	44
45	46	47	48
49	50	51	52
53	54	55	56
57	58	59	60
61	62	63	64
65	66	67	68
69	70	71	72
73	74	75	76
77	78	79	80
81	82	83	84
85	86	87	88
89	90	91	92
93	94	95	96
97	98	99	100

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY

New York, June 8.—Far back in 1867, just after the war, the Belmont Stakes was framed. Today it will have its first 100th anniversary. A race worthy of its colorful traditions, it has been a three-year-old championship of the current season in the horse and the furlongs classic.

It is a race that calls for the best in speed, stamina and courage of the thoroughbred, and the winner will be well-hailed the champion of the year.

Because of the heavy rains of the past few days and an overall slow movement in doing a race to be made, the Belmont Stakes will be a race of a different kind.

It is a race that calls for the best in speed, stamina and courage of the thoroughbred, and the winner will be well-hailed the champion of the year.

STIRRING RACE EXPECTED EVEN AT SLOW TIME

Even though the weather has not been ideal, a stirring race is expected. The fans are looking for a pep up, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

THE MOST LIKELY TO WIN

The most likely to win is the Kentucky Derby, which is a race of a different kind. The fans are looking for a pep up, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

ZEV WILL CARRY THE SAME WEIGHT AS IN THE DERBY

Zev will carry 125 pounds, the same weight he had up in the derby, in which he made his own race and won in hand. He also will be ridden by Earl Sande, pilot of jockeys, which also counts heavily in general opinion.

THE DISTANCE IS FORTHRIGHT

The distance is forthright, and the fans are looking for a pep up, and the managers are looking for ways to improve their lineups. The game is a thrilling and unpredictable sport, and the fans are looking forward to the season ahead.

Table of Runs

DAY'S HIGH-LOW SCORES	NATIONAL LEAGUE	High-Low Scores
1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12
13	14	15
16	17	18
19	20	21
22	23	24
25	26	27
28	29	30
31	32	33
34	35	36
37	38	39
40	41	42
43	44	45
46	47	48
49	50	51
52	53	54
55	56	57
58	59	60
61	62	63
64	65	66
67	68	69
70	71	72
73	74	75
76	77	78
79	80	81
82	83	84
85	86	87
88	89	90
91	92	93
94	95	96
97	98	99
100	101	102

Table of Runs

DAY'S HIGH-LOW SCORES	NATIONAL LEAGUE	High-Low Scores
1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12
13	14	15
16	17	18
19	20	21
22	23	24
25	26	27
28	29	30
31	32	33
34	35	36
37	38	39
40	41	42
43	44	45
46	47	48
49	50	51
52	53	54
55	56	57
58	59	60
61	62	63
64	65	66
67	68	69
70	71	72
73	74	75
76	77	78
79	80	81
82	83	84
85	86	87
88	89	90
91	92	93
94	95	96
97	98	99
100	101	102

Table of Runs

DAY'S HIGH-LOW SCORES	NATIONAL LEAGUE	High-Low Scores
1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12
13	14	15
16	17	18
19	20	21
22	23	24
25	26	27
28	29	30
31	32	33
34	35	36
37	38	39
40	41	42
43	44	45
46	47	48
49	50	51
52	53	54
55	56	57
58	59	60
61	62	63
64	65	66
67	68	69
70	71	72
73	74	75
76	77	78
79	80	81
82	83	84
85	86	87
88	89	90
91	92	93
94	95	96
97	98	99
100	101	102

Table of Runs

DAY'S HIGH-LOW SCORES	NATIONAL LEAGUE	High-Low Scores
1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12
13	14	15
16	17	18
19	20	21
22	23	24
25	26	27
28	29	30
31	32	33
34	35	36
37	38	39
40	41	42
43	44	45
46	47	48
49	50	51
52	53	54
55	56	57
58	59	60
61	62	63
64	65	66
67	68	69
70	71	72
73	74	75
76	77	78
79	80	81
82	83	84
85	86	87
88	89	90
91	92	93
94	95	96
97	98	99
100	101	102

Table of Runs

DAY'S HIGH-LOW SCORES	NATIONAL LEAGUE	High-Low Scores
1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12
13	14	15
16	17	18
19	20	21
22	23	24
25	26	27
28	29	30
31	32	33
34	35	36
37	38	39
40	41	42
43	44	45
46	47	48
49	50	51
52	53	54
55	56	57
58	59	60
61	62	63
64	65	66
67	68	69
70	71	72
73	74	75
76	77	78
79	80	81
82	83	84
85	86	87
88	89	90
91	92	93
94	95	96
97	98	99
100	101	102

MCKILLIP AND McDERMOTT SLATED FOR B. C.
Boston College has a good chance to capture the intercollegiate two-mile championship next year. Bill McKillop and Barney McDermott, two school stars, are to wear Maroon and Gold colors.

SPORTING AMERICAN

BOSTON

WEATH. B. MAN NO FRIEND OF BUT FR
Not Butler has made many friends. He has a few, as he is popular. But for a man who is on the right side of the weatherman.

DUNDEE WILL SWAP BLOWS WITH CRIQUI WHEN STUNG SCOTCH WOP ALWAYS GIVE FANS ACTION

By WARREN W. BROWN

James F. Dundee, the first heavyweight champion of the world, was a Scotchman. He was a big, powerful man, and he was a fighter. He was a champion, and he was a fighter. He was a champion, and he was a fighter. He was a champion, and he was a fighter.

Dundee, the first heavyweight champion of the world, was a Scotchman. He was a big, powerful man, and he was a fighter. He was a champion, and he was a fighter. He was a champion, and he was a fighter.

Boxing and Wrestling

Promoters Are Foolish to Guarantee Boxers—Calza and Gardini Will Give Fans Action

By JACK CONWAY

Boxing promoters have been having their troubles which looked as though they would draw big gains have run for money.

Tom O'Rourke guaranteed John Ribane
$75,000 for his bout with Eugene Criqui. The Frenchman was guaranteed $25,000 more. Preliminaries, rent and other expenses brought the overhead to $150,000. The featherweight classic of a century only attracted $50,000 into the box office.

Jack Conway

Leading Home Run Hitters of Season

Player	Team	Total
Paul Waner	Pittsburgh	102
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92
W. L. Riddle	St. Louis	92

SEASON'S TOTALS
American League 102
National League 92
Totals 194

Copyright 1933, by International Feature Service, Inc. Registered U. S. Patent Office

ASKING THE BOSS CONTRADICTION ABOUT HIS REVENUE OF CARPENTERS WHO WERE TO BE ON THE JOB.

Radio—The Great Indoor Sport Try and Get 'Em

Radio is a great indoor sport. It is a sport that can be enjoyed by everyone. It is a sport that can be enjoyed by everyone.

ACTION PLENTY AT REVERE TRACK

Revere track is a great place to see action. It is a place where you can see the best of the best.

CALZA COVERS RIVAL'S $5,000 SIDE BET

Calza covers rival's $5,000 side bet. This is a story about a bet that was made and how it was covered.

Calza covers rival's $5,000 side bet. This is a story about a bet that was made and how it was covered.

Calza covers rival's $5,000 side bet. This is a story about a bet that was made and how it was covered.

STANDING OF CLUBS

Club	Standing
American League	1st
National League	2nd
Eastern League	3rd
Twilight League	4th

NEW BICYCLES

At New Low Prices
$20.00
and up

W. J. WALKER CO.
100 West Ave., Boston

RACING TONIGHT

MAJOR, ELEGANT
10-MILE PACO RACE
Carnegie Madison Verano, Snod
10-MILE PACO RACE
Carnegie Madison Verano, Snod

Battle Scene for the Heavyweight Championship Title of the World Next Month

De Luxe Fiction

THE BOSTON AMERICAN pays the highest prices for fiction and features.

TELA WING

The Great Reform Novel of the Year, Baring Innermost Secrets of Luxury-Loving Class against the door! "Oh, it's the infants!" He looked into her vivid face with appreciative amusement. "Don't you want to give me this dance?" he asked.

Continued from Page 9

Her hot cheeks cooled. She considered him appraisingly though her heart beat quicker. He was so very good to look at!

"No! I don't," she replied.

"Not?" He laughed. "You're frank, at least. Perhaps you'll be franker and tell me why."

"Because you didn't ask me earlier."

"Indeed! But I hadn't seen you," he protested, surprised at himself at being put upon the defensive by this child.

"I don't like not being seen," he protested Pat, with a calmness worthy of an experienced flirt.

"Well, I'm damned!" said Vincent, under his breath. He began to be interested in this quaint specimen. "Oh! come! Give me a chance to make amends. How about a little supper?"

"Oh!" answered Pat with perverse satisfaction. "I'm going to bed. Good night, Mr. Teela Wing."

She started away from him, triumphantly satisfied of having left a barb behind her. He wouldn't forget her soon, she felt!

At the turn of the stairs she peeped down expectantly. Sure enough, there he stood, waiting after her, his comedy face clouded with perplexity and disappointment.

It gave Pat a sudden beating of the blood; but this was the thrill of satisfaction of something achieved, quite different from the unsated yet delicious longing experienced when she had looked down before from the balcony upon Warren Graves.

Even more than before she was aware of a power within herself, perhaps greater than herself, to allure men. And subtly, profoundly, she felt that the touchstone of that power was denial.

Scott Vincent would remember her, didn't Theodore would think of her with longing, because she had denied them both. Pat slept that night the sleep of a little Venus Victoria.

It was to her second daughter that Mona Pentlow made, after due thought, disclosure of her condition. Two was shocked and indignant.

"You're going to have a child?" she asked, incredulous. She had no profound affection for her mother. None of the girls had. But Mona had always been home comrades with them in her casual and light-hearted way. And she had made, as few women make, the atmosphere of her home. Without her the house was almost unthinkable; it would not be the same place; it would be a different, but essentially different. In this way chiefly would she be missed.

"You'll have to be the one to carry on the housekeeping job, dear."

"I said Mary Dine. 'Mother, I don't know the first thing about it.'"

"Blessed, I can't believe that you're going to—that you're right about yourself."

"Oh, dear! He's been thinking of something. But he seemed afraid to come out with it when I tried to follow up. Is that the reason why you wanted me to marry Bob?"

"I can't seem to think of him in that way. But, then, I can't seem to think of any man in that way."

"Not even Jimmy James?"

"Not even Jimmy, much as I like him."

"When we talked about this before you said—"

"Yes! I know. Perhaps I'll marry him one of these days. But when he tries to make love to me, I curl up a little. Am I abnormal, Mona?"

"I don't know," answered Mona reflectively. "We women are queer machines. De, Polina's just that Jimmy isn't the right man."

"Then I haven't met the right man yet. It would be pretty weird if he came along afterward, wouldn't it? So perhaps I'd better wait."

"No! I think perhaps you'd better see Ted. He's certainly got the sense to do it better than I can."

"Possibly. But if she's to do it, I'd have to tell her what I've just told you. And I don't want to break in on her happiness."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Fredie's hitting the home just a little, because he hasn't as much money as Ted thought. Not really. And she's a high-spirited little spender, you know."

"Yes, she's certainly that," agreed Mona, bethinking herself of the recently little which came in after the oldest sister's allowance had been expended in a variety of measures for which the spender was cheerfully unable to account.

"I don't know," answered Mona reflectively. "We women are queer machines. De, Polina's just that Jimmy isn't the right man."

"Then I haven't met the right man yet. It would be pretty weird if he came along afterward, wouldn't it? So perhaps I'd better wait."

"No! I think perhaps you'd better see Ted. He's certainly got the sense to do it better than I can."

"Possibly. But if she's to do it, I'd have to tell her what I've just told you. And I don't want to break in on her happiness."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"You don't think she's happy?" queried the mother. "Or perhaps you don't believe in that kind of happiness. Sympathy at your age is a pose."

"It isn't that. But I don't believe in love and Fredie are going too well together."

"Oh, happiness," murmured Mona in a curious tone.

"

You have to live out of Boston only a few months before you come to realize what an asset this city is to America.—John Y. Clapp, architect.

Women Can Enforce the Prohibition Law

There has come to our attention some facts concerning the method by which United States District Attorney Harris has been performing his duty with respect to prohibition. Mr. Harris is the law officer of the United States government in Massachusetts. It is his duty so to prosecute violations of the prohibition law as to make the law carry terror enough to prevent men from violating it.

It is reported that Mr. Harris has been consenting to light fines, which are an infinitesimal part of the profits made in this illegal and immoral business.

We do not say that Mr. Harris has done this deliberately, for we have not yet obtained upon which a safe judgment can be formed, but we do say that there are facts enough already developed to warrant an investigation.

This investigation we urge upon the representatives of the women of the State to make.

Just at the moment when those men who have been advocates of Woman Suffrage for many years were beginning to wonder whether or not the things they hoped to find women ready and eager to do, was a mistaken hope, the women of this State have risen to the occasion. Stirred to the depths by the action of Governor Smith of New York in refusing to co-operate with the Federal government in the enforcement of the prohibition law, they have come together and have called upon Governor Cox to make Massachusetts an example and to show that prohibition can be enforced in this State if the public officials do their duty. They have recommended jail terms and the abandonment of fines.

Now, therefore, we urge Mrs. William Tilton, Mrs. Edward Wellington of Malden, chairman of the Division of Education of the Women's State Republican Committee; Miss Martha N. Brooks, Alderman of Gloucester; Mrs. Alice G. Ropes of the Women's Christian Temperance Union; Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, chairman of the Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions; Mrs. E. Talmidge Cook, representing the Women's Society in the Massachusetts Federation of Churches; Mrs. Fred G. Smith, representing the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Arthur Roche, representing the Massachusetts League of Women Voters; Mrs. George Whiting, representing the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher Association; and Mrs. Prior Fulton of Waltham to look in the direction of the United States District Attorney's office.

We suggest to these patriotic women, who have raised their voices in the very nick of time, to investigate the conduct of the United States District Attorney's office with respect to enforcement of the prohibition law, and especially with respect to the policy laid down by Mrs. George Whiting of the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher Association. "Jail sentences for the first offenders is the only solution."

We do not seek to prejudice them in their investigation. No such investigation can be effective which is not begun with an open mind and with a disposition to find, if possible, that the public officials have done their duty, and with the intention of exonerating them and praising them if they HAVE done their duty, but with an equal intention to punish their guilt if they have failed in their duty in so important a respect.

You Can't Make a Hard Tooth of Pure Gold

Here is Comfort for Some Who Have Failed—and an Explanation

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

That which is absolutely pure lacks strength. And that which is strong to resist decay lacks absolute purity. In DENTISTRY this is made clear by experience and practice.

In history it is made clear too often by the flames that burned men.

A wise dentist and doctor were talking:

"Nature limits her gifts to matter as to men."

The best and most valuable of metals is gold. But we can use it PURE only when surroundings protect it.

If a dentist builds a tooth, he cannot make it of pure gold.

For pure gold will not stand the friction, the biting, the struggles that go on among teeth. A tooth all of pure gold, impervious to acid, always brittle, would be an interesting institution. But that cannot be made.

Fortunately we can use pure gold in fillings. When enamel hard as flint and the bony structure of the tooth form a protecting coat; we can use the pure gold as a filler, and defy in that filling all of nature's attack.

We can mix the gold with base inferior metal and build a tooth that will crack nuts and last a long time—but it will grow black and show the base mixture in fact.

There ought to be a moral in this fact that life's friction is too much for the noblest and purest of metals.

There is an excellent lesson in this doctor's talk. For man, in contact with the world and its struggle, is exactly the gold that the dentist uses in their work.

Many a good man has gone to the wall—because he was pure gold and could not stand the friction. He might have lasted and been admired—a very good gold tooth among men—had there been more alloy in his nature.

Here and there some man of pure gold is protected by condition, and, like the pure gold filling in the tooth, he lasts in spite of his good qualities.

But far too often the man of pure character, free from base alloy, capable of compromise with his conscience, is destroyed—or cast aside at the very beginning, as unfit for hard work.

Of men we can truly say what the doctor says of gold. The man TO LAST, in spite of friction, must have the alloy of moral hardness. Then he can stand the friction—but he turns black.

Warren Hastings, amazed at his own honesty, was a strong gold tooth with much base alloy. Of pure gold, he could never have done this work. The British owe modern India, Burke owes a fine speech, to this human tooth of gold alloy.

Some man, perhaps, will find a way of hardening gold so that its absolute purity and atomic integrity will be able to fight against the base and harder metals.

That is guesswork.

But THIS is sure and no guesswork:

Humanity in time and space will, device such protection for its members, such recognition of high merit, as will make it possible even for a man of pure golden character to survive and succeed against the material conditions of life. When that day comes we shall have our real leaders and our true teachers.

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England—June 9, 1923

At the Beaches

DRUG PLOT DIRECTED AT CHINA

PEKING, June 8.—The alleged attempt of Germany to force narcotics into China in described in a recent issue of the International Opium Association Bulletin published here.

The organization charges that within the last few months a batch of 100,000 (Mexican) which was sent to America, was offered the customs officials in Shanghai to allow a shipment from Dresden of heroin valued at $250,000 (Mexican).

Needs Artificial Leg

Editor Helping Hand: My uncle, J. D., has but one leg. He has to go about on a pair of misfit crutches. I wonder if any of the readers of your paper have an artificial leg for the right leg? My uncle's leg was amputated just below the knee. He was obliged to go under seventeen operations. All of his relatives are poor, except my mother, who has five children.

Suits to Give

Editor Helping Hand: A little boy who asked for a baseball mitt has not been supplied, will you kindly forward me his address, or perhaps there is another young man would like it. Will you also forward me the address of Mr. M. C. F. who has been supplied with a suit, please send me his address. I have another suit, size 40. This might fit Miss C. F.'s brother. I have a pair of shoes for Mrs. O. E. B.

Home for Animals

Editor Helping Hand: I would like the address of Mrs. M. F. B. I am a lover of animals. Is there some man or woman who would start an animal home with me? I would surely do my part and share half the expense. I have two pairs of men's shoes in good condition.

THE VOICE OF NEW ENGLAND

No Attention Paid to Anonymous Communications

Why Bar Photographers?

Editor Boston American: I happened to be in the South Station last Sunday when the train backed into the clear stand. A few minutes later, I saw some newspaper photographers taking pictures and then a man, whom I suppose was a railroad official, came up and stopped them. What is the reason? Do the railroads fear what the cameras will show? I see pictures in the papers every day, taken of other accidents and I can not understand why photographers are barred from the South Station. The people support the railroads and the people have a right to see all that happens, in the way of accidents, at least.

Nominal Fines

Editor Boston American: I was amazed to read in the Boston American of the enormous profits made by the rum-ship Arcturion and then to read that those arrested in connection with the same operations were fined a paltry $1500 each. I wonder if the authorities think they are going to stop liquor traffic with fines that can be "made up" in a few minutes. A few years in jail might mean something to them.

Cats Are Placed

Editor Helping Hand: I have found a home for the five cats and kittens I have. Will you let me know when I have more, as I'm plotting them up all the time? MISS M. F. B.

Help for Evelyn

Editor Helping Hand: If you will kindly send me the name and address of Dr. J. M. and her aunt, I may be of some assistance to them.

Sickness All Winter

Editor Helping Hand: I have had sickness in the family all winter. My husband only went to work this year. He and my four children were ill most of the winter. I am only recovering from a three weeks' illness myself. We need people in the way of clothes, but if I could get some underclothes for my husband, I could help me a very good deal. I would be glad to send you my address.

Received Clothes

Editor Helping Hand: I wish to thank you for the address of Mrs. P. A. H. She sent me a box of nice clothes for the children, with a promise of sending me more later on. God bless the Helping Hand. It is

By T. E. Powers

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

CONFUSION TAKES A JAUNT AROUND THE MAP

By Herbert Kaufman

VOLCANOEES are smoking again. Vesuvius begins to erupt. Honduras is threatened with a four-cornered insurrection, and the allies bradish occupation threats as another slip becomes probable between the Lusitane cup and the Turkish lip.

Constantinople rejects prescribed medicine. Ismet's delegation will neither recognize pre-war concessions nor agree to pay gold interest on the Ottoman debt.

Foreign grants by the Sultanate are repudiated and French bondholders notified that they must take paper francs or "lump it."

The difference involved amounts to $12,000,000 a year. It will need quite a bit of talking to change a Mussulman's mind to that extent.

Boophorus wrangles may be settled about the same time that the Ruhr mess is ironed out—which won't be soon, or stock tickers are guessing wrong.

There's no money for troops, so the Pekin Cabinet resigns. Wise men, Oriental armies have "a way with 'em" when the paymaster doesn't show up. Half of China is now without responsible government. Local conditions suggest that the union won't be by itself.

Why do the powers keep postponing an unescapable job? Confusion, outrage and bankruptcy inspire the establishment of international control at Pekin.

Four hundred million desperate people can't be safely left to the mercy of chaos and political adventures. Japan's apt to steal another march—if we don't watch out.

Jalousies Good and Flying Beasts

Strange doings upstairs. Coincident with announcement of Faciol's synthetic thunderbolts, an army airship is struck and consumed by lightning.

Anticlops have interpreted the incident as an exhibition of Jovian jealousy and a warning against further invasion of the sky king's realm.

Not being superstitious, modern man will continue to meet death in the heavens. The price of the candle never yet discouraged a big game.

Delayed for weeks by railroad strikes, a Belgian train notifies postal authorities to ship three lions by overhead mail and receives them by subsequent post.

A decade hence all prizes will be so shipped to save en route deflation. When hogs and cattle fly in the packing-house, we'll have better and much cheaper hams and steaks.

The cow will yet jump over the moon!

Planters send a bale of cotton by plane to Massachusetts. Mills there instantly spin and weave it into Shriners' aprons, which are delivered at Washington within twenty-four hours. A foretaste of what the world's coming to. Every present method is a sad waster. Look ahead or lag behind.

Dividends and Democracy Disagree

Economy, insisting upon the discreet use of machinery must once more realize the necessity of conserving human beings. The policies that dividends dictate are seldom sympathetic with the intents of democracy—or progress.

Federated American engineering societies now join with churches of all denominations in opposition to twelve-hour shifts for steel workers.

Expert intelligence surveys the situation and finds no ultimate profit for corporations or communities in the ragged state of employees.

Foundries, rolling mills and blast furnaces reduce life-expectations are clamorous, stifling, unhealthy places—literal infernos permeated by noxious gases, demoralizing noise and unbearable heat.

The people must have adequate sleep and sufficient time in the fresh air to cleanse sooty lungs and regain vitality. Steelmakers can no more hold back the short day than Canute could constrain the waves.

At Last, They're Not Pikers

Put not your faith in bootleggers. Secret service agents confiscate spurious labels and counterfeit revenue stamps sufficient for $25,000,000 worth of contraband.

Run-running fleets are furnishing the least of present supplies. Most of the gin and whiskey peddled hereabout never saw a distillery. Printer's ink, favoring extract and reprocessed denatured alcohol are gay deceivers.

Crime has gone in for big business, too. Burglars strip a Broadway jewelry store and escape with $100,000 worth of plunder. Detectives are still searching for securities stolen from a stock exchange messenger.

And Mabel Gilman Corey bewails the loss of a $200,000 necklace, for which the police of two continents are on the lookout. A far cry from Fagin and his kerchief-snatching mob.

The Ways of Providence

When Captain Charles Lee Phillips was divorced the courts awarded custody of a three-year-old son to the mother. Phillips, hearing that the boy, whom he had not seen since infancy, had become an aviator, visits Washington to watch him make his flight.

He pauses before a newspaper office and learns from a Fictional News Bulletin that the lad had just been killed.

Both parents will attend the funeral. Fiction could do quite a lot with that dramatic episode.

South Carolina churches will pray next Sunday for divine assistance against the boll weevil. Prayer, to date, hasn't halted insect ravages. A little faith in chemistry would be more productive of results. Heaven helps those who help themselves.

Luck, in philanthropic mood, goes rambling about England, finds Mrs. Ford, a factory worker, struggling to maintain an entire family on her miserable earnings, and advises her to "buy a sweepstakes ticket on the Derby."

She refuses $5,000 for her chance and gets $148,000 when Papyrus gallops past the judges.

A street sweeper and a street sweeper win $50,000 apiece on the same race.

The ways of Providence!

Copyright, 1922, by Star Features Syndicate and Herbert Kaufman